The Basics of Conservatorships: Making Informed Decisions for You or the Elder in Your Life

Conservators may be appointed by the probate court under very specific circumstances, and have responsibilities that can include managing finances, ensuring proper medical care, nutrition, and a safe home environment, among other responsibilities.

A conservator may be a family member, friend or other individual.

Join the WCAAA and Judge Domenick N. Calabrese of the Woodbury Probate District in our webinar on Tuesday, February 16th at noon to gain a better understanding of conservatorships and alternatives.
